

Custody of Bank's Keys

The main keys of the branch must at all times, be retained in the possession of authorised officials. Keys should never be handed over to the guard/peon or any other member of subordinate staff. The main gate of the branch should always be opened/closed strictly in the presence of an officer.